

MULTIPLE FEMALE EJACULATORY ORGASMS The oral sex technique described herein is not intended as medical or professional advice. The author hereby disclaims any personal liability as a consequence of the use of the information provided herein.

Multiple Ejaculatory Orgasms will be the most erotic experience a couple can share. Female ejaculation occurs when a semen like fluid is released upon orgasm. Squirt is the slang term for this ejaculation. All women are capable of multiple female ejaculations. Female ejaculation does not just happen. Through Indirect clitoral stimulation and Direct clitoral stimulation a woman can enjoy multiple ejaculatory orgasms. The key is complete relaxation. The female must withstand the intense sensations, relax and let go! The female should lie on her back with her legs spread and her knees up. She must relax completely. Within a minute of stimulation she will feel the urge to urinate. At this point, relax and push out. She will not urinate. A clear watery fluid will squirt out. As long as she remains relaxed as the stimulation continues this will happen several times. Multiple ejaculatory orgasms until the stimulation stops!!

First, the male should indirectly stimulate the clitoris. This means touching, rubbing, and gently squeezing the hooded area over the clitoris and other areas of the external vagina. Do this to the point of orgasm. Then use direct clitoral stimulation past the point of orgasm. The male should expose the clitoris and flick his tongue quickly and directly on her exposed clitoris. Do not lick any other area. Keep licking her exposed clitoris until she ejaculates, then stop for about 30 seconds, then begin the direct clitoral stimulation again until she ejaculates again. Take another 30 second break and repeat again. Once the female learns how to enjoy this oral technique the male can start with direct clitoral stimulation if desired.

Most women do not realize they are capable of ejaculatory orgasms because they will not let their partner continue direct stimulation long enough. If the female tenses up her pelvic contraction muscles because she thinks she is going to urinate she will not ejaculate. She will effectively block this type of orgasm. Therefore it is recommended that the female urinate beforehand. These are extremely intense sensations. She must remain relaxed. The ejaculatory orgasm feels similar at first to urination. Both urine and ejaculatory fluid are expelled through the urethra. Complete relaxation is the key. Too much resistance will hinder the effectiveness of this technique. She must withstand the intense sensations and enjoy!!
